SAUCERS OVER DALY CITY

THEME GIRLS OF THE SAN MATEO COUNTY FAIR & Floral Fiesta lead a busy life. Pretty Joan Curran, of Burlingame, for instance, as shown in this picture has been busy recently putting up some of the attractive colored posters that can be seen in all parts of the county. The reason she has a bathing suit on is because of the warm and sunny San Mateo summer days. She'll be at the Fair and colorful Fiesta which opens August 8 and continues through August 16.

Request To Reroute Broadmoor Bus Through So. Daly City Under Study

(Ed. Note: The following letter comes one week after officials of Broadmoor, Westlake and the city council agreed on a rerouting of the Broadmoor No. 76 bus line. The letter is addressed to the city transportation committee, now headed by Councilman Joseph Verducci. Action, one way or another, is expected shortly, and Councilman Verducci has promissed to give the proposition the "full study it deserves." Other readers interested in such a move are asked to write Councilman Verducci or THE RECORD.)

August, 3, 1952

Transportation Committee:
Daly City, California

Dear Sirs:

In the interest of the few thousands of people below School Street, I ask you to consider us when rerouting the No. 76 Bus Line.

East of Mission Street on Market Street and First Avenue are 200 tax-paying home owners in the new Lagomarsino Tract. Below (south) of this tract is the Sterling Tract of about 275 home owners. This does not include the longer established residents East of Mission Street, nor the hundreds of homes West of Mission Street below School Street. We are being neglected and left without transportation direct to Stonestown.

The proposed route of the entended No. 76 Bus Line turns off Mission Street at School Street then left on Junipero Serra Blvd. to Washington Street and left again to 87th Street in Broadmoor, thru Westlake to Stonestown and to St. Francis Circle in San Francisco.

New Route

I recommend you consider the No. 76 Bus Line south on Mission Street to Market Street then right on San Pedro Road past the enlarged Colma Bank of America and the new Holy Angles School and Convent and the enlarged

VOLUNTEERS NIL FOR C.D. LEADER

Response to the city's plea for a full time civilian defense director has been absolutely zero.

City Administrator Dan Andersen reported today that he had received "not one call or inquiry" about the position which he hopes to fill with a retired army or navy officer.

Necessity for such a leader has been the chief factor in delaying the civilian defense program here, Andersen said.

Anyone interested in the job is asked to contact Andersen at city hall, 75 Wellington avenue, or call PLaza 5-0850.

Bids Called At Monday Council Meet

Bids will be opened August 25 for work on plumbing, landscaping and site development for the Community Center building.

The call for bids was the only business enacted by the city council at a special meeting Monday evening. Jumbled specifications forced the council to recall for estimates for the work.

Women Request City Council Change Its Mind

Citizens Wish Bldg. Used For Classrooms

In an effort to change the minds of the city council, a group of women this week expressed interest in circulating a petition calling for use of the Community Center for classrooms.

This is the report of Michael DeBernardi, local civic leader whose petitioning recently resulted in a move to gain an independent post office here.

DeBernardi said he was highly in favor of the move, but declined to take the initial steps unless backed up by other citizens. He said the women who had approached him were asking for advice and guidance in circulating such a petition, but he did not know whether they had started circulating the documents.

While unable to give the names of the ladies involved, DeBernardi said they were "members of the PTA" and generally well known for their leadership in civic matters.

Effectual

What, if any effect the petition would have on the council could not be determined. However, now that bids have been called for additional work on the building, it is doubtful whether any radical change in plans could be made for several months.

H. Z. Weibel, superintendent of schools, said today the change in plans for the building would have to be made immediately if it was to be used for the fall quarter. Nevertheless, he indicated use of the structure would be welcome at any time.

The city council ruled out the center for classes as they did not wish to tie it up for a year as this would have meant delaying completion of the structure.

Meanwhile, DeBernardi said anyone interested in circulating or signing such a petition to contact him during the day at his place of employment, 6315 Mission street.

Broadmoor Still Without A Chief

Broadmoor is still without a police chief or a new police commissioner.

No mention of either was made at a short nine minute meeting of the Broadmoor police commission Tuesday evening.

However, the hiring of another man to fill the vacancy left with the resignation of Chief Paul Schmidt leads observers to believe that in time either Officers

EXPERT'S OPINION CALLED FOR ON FLUORIDATION

City councilman Joseph Verducci yesterday told THE RECORD he believes it is time for "an expert's opinion on fluoridation. It's a tough problem," said Verducci, "and I for one would like to hear what the qualified men have to say."

Verducci's statement came after Daly City Water Superintendent A. J. Bodien announced himself in favor of a test of the chemical properties of the city's water.

Such a test, said Bodien, hasn't been conducted in the city since 1933, and would establish whether fluoridation of the local water suply is necessary. (See editorial page.) He said he will recommend such a test to the council, and estimated its cost as about $75-$100.

Active pledges of support in the fluoridation fight came from H. Z. Weibel, superintendent of the Jefferson Elementary School district; Mrs. Helen Cheatham, member of the board of trustees of the district; and Charles Becker, Colma municipal judge and well-known local attorney.

Civic Leaders

Said Weibel: "I certainly favor anything that will prevent tooth decay in children. I don't know too much about the program, but if there aren't any major drawbacks, I will definitely stand in favor of fluoridation."

Said Mrs. Cheatham: "I'm certainly in favor of a move primarily for children, and I can't see any reason why it shouldn't be beneficial here in Daly City. If anything can be done to reduce bad teeth, we should have it as quickly as possible. I'm very definitely in favor of fluoridation."

Expert Surveys

Said Judge Becker: "Surveys by experts seem to indicate that fluoridation is really beneficial, and I will certainly go along with the experts. From what I've been able to ascertain, I'm in favor of such a move."

A survey of the chemical properties of the city's water, such as recommended by Water Superintendent Bodien, is one of the first steps that must be taken on the road to fluoridation, according to the state department of public health, which has set up safety standards in the matter.

Approximately 25 counties throughout the United States were found to have ample natural fluorine in their water supplies, making the artificial addition of fluorides unnecessary.

Last week, four out of five Daly City dentists polled backed the fluoridation fight. One of them reported that local children have "terrible teeth," a statement that indicates chemical tests will find fluoridation necessary in Daly City.

IS IT OPIUM? MRS. KHANA KOSHABA thinks so, and she should know. Mrs. Koshaba noticed the suspected plants growing wild in Daly City, on Flournoy street between Mission and San Jose avenue. She immediately recognized them as similar to opium plants she had previously seen on a trip through Persia. Federal narcotics agents are reportedly investigating.

FEDERAL NARCOTICS AGENTS CHECK REPORTS OF OPIUM IN DALY CITY

Federal narcotics agents are investigating the sudden appearance of opium poppies in Daly City.

Found growing in a lot on Flournoy street, between Mission and San Jose avenue, the poppies were originally discovered by Mrs. Khana Koshaba, 6184 Mission.

Absolutely Certain

Mrs. Koshaba yesterday told THE RECORD that she is certain the poppies are of the opium-yielding variety. She became familiar with their appearance, she said, while visiting Persia, where opium is grown for medical purposes.

"I'm absolutely certain they are opium poppies," said Mrs. Koshaba, "and my husband agrees with me. We've seen too many of them to be mistaken."

Chemical Analysis

Federal narcotics agent C. T. Cass said a chemical analysis would be necessary before he could make an equally positive statement, but added that it is "quite possible" that the poppies contain the debilitating drug.

Thousands of acres of the sweet-smelling plants were cultivated until recently in California, Cass said. They were legally grown, particularly in the Marys-

WESTLAKE ASSN. MAY GO TO COURT

15 Residents Charged With Bylaws Violations

Legal action to enforce the rules of the Westlake Property Owners association was threatened this week against 15 Westlake residents.

George Pingry, association president, said the "approximately 15 cases" were all involved with violations of the architectural code as explained in the association's by-laws.

Declining to name any of the residents involved, Pingry said the cases were presented to board of directors last Monday evening. An example of one of the violations was a homeowner who constructed a fence higher than al-

REGULAR COUNCIL MEET SET MONDAY

Moving to check any future floods in the Concordia district, the city council will adopt specifications for flood control in that area at their regular meeting Monday evening.

The regular council meet is held at 8 p.m. in city hall, 75 Wellington avenue.

Interested residents are cordially invited to attend.

Jeff High Tax Rate Cut 15c

Increased Assessed Valuations Allow Move

A 25 cent cut in the maximum legal tax rate of $1.35 for the Jefferson high school district was pushed through this week by the board of trustees.

Tax rate for the coming fiscal year, 1952-53, will be $1.10, Lyal Ingersoll, board chairman, announced today. This is 25 cents below the maximum rate approved by voters last spring, and is 15 cents under the rate of last year.

Increased assessed valuations throughout the district made the cut possible. With a tax base almost double that of last year, the board felt it was in a position to lower the actual tax rate.

It is hoped the cut will balance the 50 per cent across the board increase in assessed valuations, and the average taxpayer will be paying no more than in the past year.

Hopes

The board had hoped to cut the rate even more, but the budget for 1952-53, higher than previous budgets, made this economically unfeasible. Several major maintenance jobs and necessity of purchasing additional equipment has resulted in the budget hike, explained Ingersoll.

Ingersoll reported the district completed the 1951-52 school year with a cash balance of over $200,000. This will enable the district to meet its expenses until tax

LOCAL RESIDENT SEES MYSTERIOUS OBJECTS SUNDAY

13 'Visitors' Knife Through Thick Fog

As several awed spectators looked skyward, 13 flying saucers knifed their way through the coastal fog Sunday evening to hover silently over Westlake.

This was the first reported appearance of the mysterious objects over Daly City.

Robert DeBernardi, 928 Bradley drive, said he and several unidentified late afternoon beach picnickers first spotted the "shiny round objects" at 4:40 p.m. as they broke through a mass of clouds over Thornton beach.

"They shot out of the sky in a definite formation, something like an irregular "V." I guess they were from two to three miles up, and because of the fog it was hard to make out their exact shape," a witness said.

DeBernardi said the objects were round and slightly elongated with what looked to be "bright streams of fire flowing out from behind."

Change

As they passed Thornton beach the formation changed shape until they were in a long curving line. "I tried to count them, but with the fog and all it was difficult to say whether there were eight or 14 of them."

The beach watchers lost sight of the saucers as they sped over the coast highway.

"Their speed seemed to vary. When I first saw them they were hitting close to 400 or 500 miles per hour. Then abruptly they slowed down, as if they had put on brakes. About that time I lost sight of them again."

Surprised

Excited by what he had seen, DeBernardi ran to his car and made it up to the intersection of Skyline and the Coast Highway.

"Just as I got to the turn I saw one of them just sitting their in the sky, right over the Westlake houses. I don't know what happened to the rest of them, unless they were out of sight in the fog.

"The object seemed to hang there for a full half minute then all of a sudden shot straight up. I was so surprised, I didn't bother to see if anyone else had noticed it."

DeBarnardi's report fits in with that of a Hamilton Field pilot who said he "spotted eight round, silver definitely physical objects west of the coast" at 4:30 p.m. Sunday.

A Hamilton F-86 went up to investigate, but found nothing.

However, it was reported coastal radar installations had detected unidentified objects in the same area.

And the Weather Bureau even noted that Sunday's weather was highly favorable for "flying saucer illusions." The bureau reported a strong temperature inversion occurred over the Coast and Daly City and explained such an inversion is a mass of warm air atop a mass of cold air.

This Is Work?

Bistro Owner Tells All

It's a tough life when a man has to stay up late weighing the merits of various strip-tease acts, determining how many cases of bourbon, Scotch and beer to order for the week, and seeing to it that the customers are kept happy while spending their money.

At least, that's the opinion of Chester (Chet) Moss, 119 E. Vista avenue, Daly City. Moss, in partnership with two San Francisco men, is the new and proud owner of the Pago-Pago Club, located at 501 Pacific street in the International Settlement.

Tourist Mecca

Featuring two dancers (who grow progressively less dressed as their dances continue), three singers, and a comedy act, the Pago-Pago is a mecca for tourists to San Francisco, reports Moss, who served his apprenticeship as a bartender for 6 years before becoming a club owner himself.

A man who believes in giving the customers his money's worth when he comes for an evening at the Pago-Pago, Moss keeps a constant eye peeled for strippers, comedians, singers and other acts that keep his clientele happy between drinks.

Good, Clean Fun

However, he insists, it's all good, wholesome fun at the Pago-Pago. "We keep our strippers on the clean side," says Moss, "you can't keep the customers coming back if your acts are way out of line."

For any young ladies interested in such work, he reports that all strippers are hired through the AGVA (American Guild of Variety Artists). Beginning wages among the belles of the G-string are $71.50 per week. A popular performer, though, can command up to $350 to $400 per week.

A fanatic golfer, who is as proud of his tournament cups as his Hawaiian-style entertainment emporium, Moss has accumulated over the years a large fund of information on American tippling habits and preferences.

money is pro-rated in December.

Word Kept

"Board members have kept their word to the people," Ingersoll concluded. "When in the spring election we said we would not necessarily up the taxes to the $1.35 limit, we meant just that. We will continue to be as economical as possible, consistent with a good educational program."

Meanwhile, faced with double sessions and a need to enlarge the Jefferson elementary school district by almost twice its size, the elementary school board was unable to cut its tax rate for 1952-53. The rate will be $1.52 as compared with 93c for 1951-52.

ville area, so that the harmless seeds could be used in bakeries.

Illegal Now

A Federal law, passed in 1914, made the further cultivation of them illegal. If the poppies Mrs. Koshaba reports are of the opium bearing variety, added Cass, they were probably accidentally brought into the city.

Of the more than 100 species of poppies, he said, only a few contain the drug. Extent of its narcotic effect is testified to by the fact that in 1906, it was estimated that over 25 per cent of adult males in China were habitual opium smokers.

However, it takes ten acres of the plant to yield one can of opium, said Cass. Only a few of the suspected poppies were found in Daly City.

lowed in the by-laws.

Whether the "legal action" would involve taking the residents to court Pingry did not say.

Should the cases ever reach the court docket it will be the first time such action has been initiated by the association. Generally, Pingry explained, the majority of residents realize the association's only purpose is to assist them and they have cooperated "to a marvelous degree."

Don't Wear Dark Glasses At Night Says H'way Patrol

The California Highway Patrol today cautioned motorists against wearing tinted or colored glasses for night driving because while they may reduce headlight glare they may also cut the driver's vision far below the minimum safety level.

With persons wearing the glasses, Patrol Commissioner Clifford L. Paterson said, "the ability to see the road ahead is often reduced to a greater degree than the reduction glare from oncoming vehicles."

He said vision and law enforcement experts have agreed that the colored glasses do not add anything to night driving safety and can result in highly dangerous conditions.

Some glasses reduce visibility of tail lights and signal lights on cars ahead, Paterson declared, and tests have shown that they do not outline or silhoutte pedestrians as sometimes claimed.

Commissioner Peterson said the warning did not apply to persons wearing tinted glasses because of sight deficiencies but he did ask them to wear only glasses which had been properly prescribed and fitted.

Holy Angles Church, to Washington and Junipero Serra Blvd. and then along the proposed route.

The area below School Street off Mission Street included business and private home owners who would benefit from the above recommended change in the route. Also, the children of Jefferson Grammer School; the children of Thorton Grammer School; the children of the new Colma Junior High School; would have added transportation. The 2,000 parishioners of Holy Angles Church, who at present have no public transportation from Daly City, Broadmoor or Westlake should be considered while you are re-routing the No. 76 Bus Line. I have spoken with Father Morrissey of Holy Angles Church and he tells me there has been no mention of transportation for the estimated 250 school children who will attend the New Holy Angles School, which is built on Reiner Street and San Pedro Road. This problem must be taken care of and some arrangement made before the Fall Term.

I am sure this letter has brought our area to your attention and we will not be neglected when rerouting the No. 76 Bus Line.

Sincerly yours,

Broadmoor Still Without A Chief

Don Tannehill or Ray Savage will be upped to Schmidt's $350 a month job.

Named a new full time officer by Commissioners Val Olson and Armando Ferraris was Gale Galussha, 32, 536 McArthur drive. Galussha, who had been serving as a part time officer on Sundays, will be replaced in the Sunday job by Robert Williams, 28, 815 Maddux drive.

Meeting

Meanwhile, the county board of supervisors referred the resignation of Commissioner Pat Patey to Supervisor Thomas Hickey at their regular meeting Tuesday. Patey's resignation was refused until Hickey advises the board on a possible alternate.

Hickey today said he would not name Patey's replacement until he holds a meeting later this week with Olson and Ferraris, and possibly interested members of the Broadmoor Property Owners Association.

Patey's replacement is expected to be named at the next supervisor's meeting, August 19.

Olson has indicated the new chief will be appointed only after the new commissioner has been selected.

CHET MOSS, LONG-TIME DALY CITY RESIDENT and new owner of the Pago Pago club in the International Settlement demonstrates a deft hand with the bottle. When not keeping the customers happy at his night club, Moss can be found on the golf course, trying to add to his collection of tournament trophies.

can seems to hold his own. Each night between the hours of 6 p.m. and 2 a.m., the Pago-Pago sells approximately two cases of hard liquor and five of beer. Each case of whiskey holds 12 bottles, each bottle approximately 26 drinks. Result—625 bends of the elbow per evening, plus beer.

Most asked for drink, says Moss, is bourbon and soda (however, he adds, offer a bourbon drinker a free drink and nine times out of ten he turns to Scotch). Women show more partiality to the sweet, mixed drinks. Daquiris, collins, sours and the like rate high with them.

But no one drink stays on top the popularity list for long. Fads boom unheard of concoctions to sudden eminence before they fade from view. Right now, Moss continued, the Screwdriver is king. A mixture of vodka and orange juice, it is reputedly odorless and considered a boon to the errant husband.

Although specializing in Hawaiian drinks, the Pago-Pago softpedals the famous Zombie. "It's just a little too strong," says Moss. "People come to a club for relaxation, but if they have to be carried out, they don't come back very often."

Happy To See You

One thing he insists upon: "Never be embarassed at buying beer or inexpensive drinks in a club. If the place is any good at all, they're happy to see you regardless of what you order."

Married for the past 10 years, Moss became a bartender by a process of pure reasoning. From 1922-26 he was in the Navy. At the end of his hitch, he went to barber college and became a hair-trimmer, a job he stuck at from 1929 through 1936.

But it was during Prohibition, he says, that he made up his mind to go into the liquor business—some day.

Wrong Business

"Back in Prohibition, I would cut a guys hair, shave him, give him a shampoo, and wind up with a 25 cent tip. Then the same character would cross the street to a speakeasy, have a few drinks and give the bartender a half a dollar. After that happened a few times, I decided I was in the wrong business."

Since 1936, he has worked steadily at the bartending trade at various clubs in San Francisco, with the exception of 1942-45, when he went back into the Navy.

From the standpoint of that much experience, he feels qualified to offer two pieces of advice: for a hangover, try a Pecan Punch (pecan, grenadine and brandy) or a Stinger (brandy and white creme de menthe); and for those who want to be bartenders, "Make sure you can keep the customer happy and take their money at the same time."

FARMERS MARKET MARKS BIRTHDAY

On August 12 the Farmers' Market will be nine years old.

No celebration will be held this year. It is planned to hold a civic statewide celebration next year commemorating a decade of public service. Farmers will unite with San Franciscans in putting on a celebration stressing better urban-rural relations for which the Farmers' Market has been largely responsible.

The only incident to be noted this year on the 12th is the simple raising of the flag on the market's 80 foot flagpole erected in honor of the Market's founder.

As the market was born nine years ago because of the distressed condition of Sonoma County Gravenstein apples and Bartlett pears on the 12th of August.

Nixon Heads GOP State Meet

Republican Vice Presidential nominee Richard Nixon heads the list of five top G. O. P. leaders on the program for California State Republican Party meetings in Sacramento next Saturday and Sunday, State Chairman T. H. DeLap said today.

In addition to Sen. Nixon who will speak shortly before noon Sunday, the program includes: Gov. Earl Warren, Sen. William F. Knowland, Lt. Gov. Goodwin J. Knight and State Controller Thomas H. Kuchel.

DeLap said he will make a brief report as retiring State Chairman and other addresses are to be given by G. O. P. State Finance Chairman Charles S. Thomas, Los Angeles, Republican National Vice Chairman McIntyre Faries, Los Angeles, and Republican National Committeewoman Mrs. Marjorie H. E. Benedict, Berkeley.

Formal Republican sessions for the weekend will open on Friday with a meeting of the State Committee's Platform Committee under the chairmanship of Assemblyman Robert Kirkwood, Saratoga. The Friday session has been scheduled as a method of giving more time for public hearings on various platform issues.

VAPOR LOCK

During hot weather vapor lock may occur in an automobile fuel line or pump. For this reason the California State Automobile Association suggests the fuel pump be checked regularly to assure proper operation. If vapor lock does occur, the best remedy is patience. Give the car time to cool, or use a wet cloth to cool the pump and fuel line before trying to restart the automobile.

SAN JOAQUIN COUNTY FAIR OPENS AUGUST 15

San Joaquin County's biggest and zaniest fair will open in Stockton Friday, August 15 for a nine-day run.

Full of color, zip and spice, this year's exposition is jam-packed with features which are new, different, exciting.

The 200-acre park is feverish with activity as preparations enter the home stretch.

New is the Forest Festival, in which world titleholder lumberjacks from the Northwest—and San Joaquin, Calaveras, El Dorado, Tuolumme and Amador County loggers willing to meet their challengers—will monkey up 90-foot trees to stage climbing races, tree-topping, speed chopping, log bucking and tree falling contests.

New is the three-bedroom model Dream House, completely furnished and landscaped. And new is San Joaquin County's first formal salute to the lumber and building industry, which includes all sorts of forest products exhibits and demonstrations.

New is the Pageant of Nations in which the various national groups which have helped build San Joaquin County will present their traditional music, singing and dancing as a nightly free attraction.

New is the elaborate decoration and rebuilding program keyed to the 1952 fair theme of "Where dreams come true," and featuring the turbaned genie, the maker of magic, which sprang into life with the rubbing of Aladdin's lamp.

New is the star-studded entertainment program, featuring the Great Siegfried, who skis from a high trestle down an unprotected 11-inch canvas runway to make 40-foot jumps, the five-man Timber Toppers singing group, and the Yolando Musical Trio.

Changing Traffic Signals

Don't try to beat a changing traffic signal, warns the National Automobile Club.

BATTERY OVERCHARGING

If your automobile's battery uses an excessive amount of water, the regulator charging rate is probably set too high, according to the California State Automobile Association. Other possible causes include a defective regulator, generator or wiring. You may find it an important saving to have an ignition specialist check the electrical system when overcharging is first noticed.

B'moor, Daly City Cops Join To Capture Youth

A 14-year-old Colma youth, runaway from Juvenile Hall, was recaptured Sunday afternoon by officers of two local police departments.

The teen-ager was spotted in Colma by Broadmoor police officer Dan Tannehill, who gave chase and radioed to Daly City police for help.

Insp. August Benassini of the DC police joined in the chase and the two of them eventually ran the youth down.

He was brought to Daly City police headquarters until released in the custody of county juvenile authorities.

OBITUARY

RAYMOND BAER

Death came last Friday, August 1, to Raymond Baer, 44, 7 Cliffside drive. His death followed a short illness.

As one of the first residents of Westlake, Baer was well known in that area. For some time he served as secretary to the Westlake Property Owners Association, and was generally active in civic affairs.

An engineer for the United States government, Baer was a native of Cloveland, Ohio, and a member of the Ornan Lodge No. 652, F & A M.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Rosemary Baer and a daughter, Elizabeth Ann. He also has relatives in Cleveland.

Following funeral services at Gatner, Felder-Kenny chapel, Baer's body was sent to Cleveland Heights for interment.

MRS. MARY ADLUNG

Funeral services were held from the W. C. Lasswell & Co. mortuary Wednesday, August 6, for Mrs. Mary Adlung, 189 Gambetta.

Mrs. Adlung died August 2 at Junipero Serra hospital.

She is survived by her widower, George Adlung.

Interment was at Cypress Lawn cemetery.

MANUEL PEREIRA

LOW SPARKING

Due to the possiblity of accidental explosions, sparking dangers must be cut to a minimum when military aircraft are being fueled. One manufacturer is now making nozzles for gasoline hoses out of Monel, and alloy of nickel and copper, because of this material's low sparking characteristics.

Police Widows Depend On Proceeds Of Annual Ball, Says Local Officer

The success of this year's Police Ball to be held at Bay Meadows clubhouse August 23, is dependent on voluntary ticket purchases by citizens, according to Hank Sunderman, Daly City police officer.

More than 18,000 letters containing tickets have been mailed out to local residents this week, Sundermann said. The ticket sales resulting from this vast mail appeal raises funds to underwrite the cost of the Peninsula police widow's and orphan's insurance policy.

The policy offers protection to the families of officers fatally injured in the line of duty.

"The annual police ball," Sunderman said, "provides peninsulans with the opportunity of not only having a wonderful evening of entertainment, but also to contribute to a tremendously worthy cause."

This year's ball features two orchestras. Phil Bovero's radio and recording band will play modern tempos while Texas Hank and his cowboy musicians provide the western rhythms.

THE RECORD RECOMMENDS

As a reminder to you and your elected officials THE RECORD this week inaugurates a civic improvement "box score" dictated by public need.

The right hand column carries the number of days final action has been held up on these issues. We hope this guide will be instrumental in bringing about some of these needed reforms.

	Days Delayed
A coordinated civilian defense organization which would meet at least once a month to discuss disaster problems.	722
A Chamber of Commerce supported by local businessmen to improve the community.	77
Proper transportation facilities for Westlake and Daly City, preferably a privately operated line.	407
Recreation: Park for Westlake area; Completion of the Community Center building; Night lights for Marchbanks park.	247
An end to flagrant use of closed door caucus meetings to carry on the majority of the city's business.	1,416

A View Of The Broadmoor Bus Extension

This week a reader suggests the new rerouting schedule for the Broadmoor shuttle bus might be extended to include southern Daly City.

She points out the extension of the No. 76 line would mean better service for residents in the Lagomarsino and Sterling tracts as well as for the parishioners of the enlarged Holy Angels church and school. The reader also observes such a move would afford the bus an even larger base from which to draw financing.

On the face of it this appears to be a fine idea. However, there is one important item to be considered . . . the time element. With the rerouting of the bus through Westlake the round trip schedule of the line will be upped by at least one-half hour. Whereas now it takes but 20 minutes to make the round trip through Broadmoor, it will take close to an hour to make it through Westlake and into San Francisco.

Of course the new route is so designed that this will actually mean more convenience to shoppers. With only the one bus at their command the planners of the new route did a remarkable bit of favorable juggling. They are to be commended.

However, if the bus is rerouted much more, the time will be extended considerably.

We certainly believe the residents of southern Daly City and Colma should be afforded bus service. However, we believe this could be best accomplished in a manner already recognized by the city council.

The council, in a recent letter to the San Francisco Public Utilities Commission, requested the majority of No. 14 buses extend their service down to Market street. This would afford better service for the residents in Southern Daly City, and would also do away with the congested parking problem at the top-of-the-hill.

If the PUC is willing to go that far, there is no reason why one or two of these busses could not continue down a portion of San Pedro road or even cut over to the Sterling or Lagomarsino tract.

This, then, would give residents on lower Mission street even quicker, more satisfactory service than the rerouting of the Broadmoor bus. Incidentally, it also would save them money, as the Broadmoor shuttle bus does not issue transfers for use on other buses going downtown.

Of course, much of this is conjecture on our part; but we hope this will serve to point up the difficulties facing the Daly City transportation committee so ably lead by Councilman Joseph Verducci. Regardless of which way the committee turns, it is going to run into the same brick wall . . . complete dependence upon the whims of the PUC.

Actually, the only solution to this whole transportation mess is a privately operated line in Daly City. Why more information about the possibility of obtaining such a line hasn't been obtained by the council remains a mystery. No one will question they are working hard on the problem, but to our mind much of their effort is in the wrong direction.

Bodien Calls For Analysis Of Water

A call for the initial step in fluoridating the city's water supply was made today by Water Superintendent A. J. Bodien.

Bodien reiterated his previous stand that the city should "wait and see" how fluoridation works out in communities that are trying it, but said that chemical analysis of the city's water was overdue.

No tests to determine the chemical properties of Daly City's water have been conducted since December 2, 1933, he told THE RECORD, and added that "it's high time we had a re-check, and in the process we'll find out what the fluoride content is—if any."

Bodien said the original test was made in 1933 by Dollard Hyde and company. He estimated that cost of the proposed test would not exceed $100. Several times each month the city's water is checked for purity by county officials, added Bodien, but no analysis of chemical properties is made in such checks.

Determining the exact chemical nature of the water is one of the initial steps required by the State Department of Public Health before fluoridation procedures are begun.

With the support of local dentists, doctors and civic leaders, it is hoped that the examination proposed by Superintendent Bodien will mark the beginning of positive action to bring the unquestioned benefits of fluoridation to Daly City.

There is always the possibility that local water carries a sufficient amount of natural fluorides, but in view of a prominent Daly City dentist's statement last week that "the teeth of children in this area are terrible," that possibility is very remote.

If the city council acts on Bodien's suggestion, it may well be the beginning of lower dental bills for parents and, more particularly, better health for our children.

That Cockeyed Crockery

Those flying saucers, which most everybody seems to be seeing and the air force futilely chases, are neither Russian nor U. S. secret weapons, but are by no means imaginary. So declares Major Don Keyhoe, wartime Marine flyer and author of the best seller, "Flying Saucers are Real."

He is convinced that the saucers are exploratory vehicles from a far-advanced civilization on another planet, and "are unmanned and controlled from afar, perhaps by radio from a space ship.

"In my own opinion," he goes on, "there is no cause for fear. "For at least 200 years now, astronomers, sea captains and others of repute have reported seeing similar objects."

Squeamish thought, that! What if those things are so advanced scientifically that they spy on everything we do on this earth—seeing through walls and roofs electronically, maybe reading our minds?

Could be, if that is the case, that they view us as the clown creatures of the universe—with our miserable failure to achieve law and order and peace in our world, and our suicidal employment of the knowledge we have gained to forge weapons that may destroy our race. Maybe all we're good for to them, is laughs.

Whatever their reasons for hanging around, they must be a selfish and heartless lot. If they know so much more than we do, they might at least land and enlighten us. And if they won't do that, they should have the decency to flit back to their home star and let us have a little terrestial privacy!

When Are We Going To Get Lights At Marchbanks?

Kicked around from survey to discussion to arguments and back to surveys for the past two years has been the question of night lights for Marchbanks park.

Purpose of the lights would be to allow the adults and children of the community to use the field for such recreation activities as night baseball.

As this is a recreation matter, everyone from the city council down to the man in the street has at least paid the suggestion lip service. It appears to be a great idea . . . but.

The "but" hinges on the cost of such a project. The Daly City Recreation Commission feels a battery of lights could be put up for something under $3,500. A councilman told THE RECORD several weeks ago that he thought the lights might be prohibitive, as the cost would be closer to $9,000.

In an effort to get to the bottom of the question, George Pingry, recreation chairman, has called for another, this time thorough study of the problem. It is to be hoped the city council will take quick action to put this survey on the road to facts and figures.

Meanwhile, Daly City has the unique distinction of having one of the finest incomplete recreation setups on the Peninsula. When completed the parks and recreation center will rocket us to first place. The difficulty is that rocket has fizzled so often of late that it may never get off the ground.

It appears every city of comparable size between the San Francisco county line and San Jose has made some provision for night recreation. Daly City, evidently bashful about making final decisions, stands on the wings always ready to take the stage with night lights at Marchbanks, but somehow always missing the cue.

And while the city waits and waits and waits, some 500 adults and children who could be using the field every evening also wait and wait and wait for night lights.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The Record welcomes any letter on any event of public, or private interest. These letters are published at no expense to the writer. There are just two requirements: the letters must be signed, and must be within the laws of libel. We hope readers will show enough interest in their city to occasionally "sound off;" for the purpose of this column is to give you, the reader, a chance to express an opinion.

Reader Says Fluoridation Is A "Serious Menace To Our Health"

August 1, 1952

The Record, Editor

Dear Sir:

I have read with interest your article on fluoridating our drinking water and am submitting the following literature which I, for my family and on the behalf of other Daly City families, would like you to print.

This is a very serious menace to our health as you will observe by reading the enclosed documents. Kindly do the necessary before it is too late. Thank you for your kindness.

Mrs. Muriel Smith

THE FLUORINE FOLLY

It is amazing to see the progress the cover-all Plan of the One World Plotters taking shape to fluorinate the water of all Cities and Towns of the United States.

What is behind all this push in time of war to place toxic chemicals in our drinking water supplies?

What power is using the American Dental Society—the American Public Health Service—and various State Dental and Health Societies to force this mass medication upon the people without their consent? Even the Health and Welfare Councils of the Community Chest are advocating at their meetings the slogan—"Drink Away Tooth Decay With Fluorine."

Those interested in the good health of mind and body of God's humanity MUST speak up and inform City Council and all other authorities of this "PLAN" to thrust mass medication upon a deluded public in the guise of "Reducing Dental Decay Among Children." A courageous Dentist, Dr. Paul Manning, of Springfield, Mass., in a survey of 1500 Dentists throughout the country, (500 of them being from his own State of Massachusetts) revealed that, strangely enough,—Not One Was Giving Any Of His Family Fluorine. It is a matter of common knowledge that this inorganic Fluorine is a by-product of aluminum, a waste material, which effects the ulnar nerve and deadens the frontal part of the brain. This potent poison, even in small doess over a period of time, can cause serious results such as, arterial and venous hardening, bone tumors, brittleness of bones causing breakages, vertigo, ulcers, loss of memory, etc.

We can hardly ignore the warning of FBI Chief, J. Edgar Hoover, when he issued a Nation-wide statement against possible sabotage by "poisoning water supplies." As point II of "The Case Against Fluoridation" says: "Adoption of Fluoridation by any community would provide our enemies with a perfect weapon of attack."

Why place in enemy hands the equipment which some night, Cities' Water Supplies throughout the Nation, would be poisoned by the simple trick of adding more than the one part per million that is being put into water supplies where "Fluoridation" is being practiced? Russia doesn't have to send A-bombs to destroy American Cities—(which, no doubt, they would rather preserve un-damaged for the production potential—to be inhabited by their millions of Asiatics after Americans have largely been liquidated).

The Alchemists have always used Fluorine as a poison to make people lose their natural elements. That is the UNESCO idea to have "PEACE" by controlling the minds of the people by destroying the mental faculties, eminently fitting them for slavery and servile obedience. Physical languor and moral ruin precedes the peoples' enslavement!

It is high time a Citiezns' Committee Against Fluoridation be formed in every City like it has in San Francisco to turn the limelight upon the conspiracy behind this proposed poisoning of the people of these United States On June 12th, 1951, the California State Assembly by a vote of 34 to 46 defeated a bill to permit the Fluoridation of water supplies in that State—and there are other concerted efforts in other communities throughout the country showing their distaste for this experiment.

A veritable earthquake of public wrath will be needed to uproot this act of man to manufacture poisonous chemicals as an outlet for profiteering politicians and peddlers. A fundamental freedom is removed making citizens of this nation a pawn to the commercial profiteers by blanket medication!

Demand of your community civil defense agency protection against this chemical warfare! Do it today—tomorrow may be too late!

Action On Frankfort Park & Street Requested... Andersen Answers Letter

July 31, 1952

City Council of Daly City, Calif.

Gentlemen:

The complaints registered in this letter were verbally presented to you at your meeting of July 28, 1952.

The first concerns that portion of Acton Street between Bellevue and Frankfort streets. This street has been in a deplorable condition since December, 1951. It has been impassable at times, and nearly so the rest of the time.

We hereby request a definite ruling from the City Attorney as to the definite status of sand property. Who is the legal owner, and where does the responsibility lie in case of accident resulting from the condition of this street.

We were informed by the council that the city intends to do something about improving this street, just what is intended?

Next, the Frankfort playground. We do hereby denounce the inefficiency that has blessed us with a large undeveloped plot of dirt and mud for the past eighteen months. As tax paying residents of this area, we have been greatly inconvenienced. This inconvenience is to be expected to a certain extent, however, we do feel that the length of time involved has been very unreasonable.

Requests to Mr. Anderson to have this area closed off as a safety factor during last winters storms were to no avail.

Sincerly;

Orphe A. White

John A. Franusich

(Signed) Agnes Austring
(Signed) Mrs. A. E. Pimley
(Signed) Charles Byrne
(Signed) William W. Wallace

(Ed Note: Replying to this letter, City Administrator Dan Andersen said today:

"I have requested the ruling about the street as asked. City Attorney Frank Blum is now looking into the matter, and I hope to make a report at the next meeting of the council."

"As to Frankfort park, Monday workmen were in the process of completing the comfort station and putting up a retaining wall. The park, except for the planting of shrubs and a turf, should be completed within the next 30 days.

"When we get around to putting in the turf will depend upon the best time to close down the field. This probably will be in the fall, and will allow the turf and shrubbery to get a good start without fear of children trampling it down."

Bill Katz . . . FROM A CORNER

I don't suppose most Daly City gals would consider themselves small town tomatoes, simply because this denotes a skirt without much hep.

However, this week along comes a guy called Ken Murray, popular jobber of the form beautiful, and in a moment of deep reflection notes it's a good thing to be a small town chick.

Responsible for a show which ran for seven years in Hollywood and turned out such curves as Marie Wilson and Rhonda Fleming, this guy Murray knows of what he mumbles. He says the true sex boats find a harbor in little towns where they don't get the opportunity to put on a brainy front. Mixing sex and brains, as far as Murray is concerned, is as stomach turning as a short whis-

With this expert's opinion as a

Back Drop

With this expert5s opinion as a backdrop it might not be a bad idea to look around the local scene. It's going to take a lot of looking, no matter whether you consider this a hick town or the bedroom of San Francisco.

The shortage of good looking women, in Daly City is phenomenal. Maybe its the fog or the high humidity but the majority of local females bear a closer resemblance to football players or anaemic track stars. Somehow all the curves have turned into dead ends.

Variety

Scurrying around the hamlet are a variety of females with a husband's scalp tied securely to their wampum belts. Having secured this bit of insurance against hard times they are content to let their figure go completely to pot. Where once they spent hours laying the trap for the leary male, that trap is now sprung and the neat clothing and makeup jars are gathering dust.

This is even more evident in a small town where women, firmly convinced they are better than the neighbor down the block make no effort to keep on the mask of beauty.

Proverbs

Of course the proverbial "classy chassy" in a big or small town is a hard commodity to find. However, there is the happy medium the ground between real beauty and "look at me, I'm looking like the dogs" variety.

Any woman blessed with a little common sense and a small bit of change can throw up a camouflage around an otherwise dismal shape. Fashion magazines seem to prove the more "striking" (a familiar word for want of symmetry in face or figure) a woman, the more likely she is to attract. This isn't to say what she will attract, but at least she's better looking than yesterday morning's coffee grounds.

How many women recognize that simple conclusion? Judging from the "beauty parade" on Mission there are few indeed.

As from time to time the relative flaws in considering even one out of a thousand women intelligent, it is not necessary to go into the chances of finding a dumb, beautiful woman in our fair community.

But this guy Murray is all wet, if he thinks small towns such as Daly City produce anything but contented wives and high school girls scouting for a hubby's scalp. There may be good looking gals in our fair city, but they've been in hiding for a long, long time.

Keith Gardner . . . OFF THE RECORD

Periodically, San Francisco has a split between members of the police force and certain fair young damsels on what constitutes Art. If a comely babe removes the large part of her clothing for the amusement and entertainment of a select audience, is that Art?

Consensus of opinion among the SFPD is that it isn't. Their stand is vehemently opposed by the fillies themselves, and in all due conscience I must agree with the latter group. Nature's handiwork has long been sacred to me, and if some underprivileged lassie is trying to work her way through business school by exposing a goodly part of her epidermis for pay, who am I to deny her an education? Or for that matter, who are the San Francisco police?

Critical Training

It takes years of training, study and what-have-you before a music or drama critic is deemed capable of differentiating between Art and the many things that masquerade under its name. Yet for some inexplicable reason, the common, garden-variety of flatfoot thinks himself gifted beyond the ordinary man.

Of course, there are always a few people of evil intent, who toddle off to the burleycue houses for other than aesthetic reasons. But I'm talking about high-minded people like you and me, friend, who can appreciate such matters without descending to the fleshly level (we can, can't we?).

Sally Rand

Why, then, should we stand for this unwarranted censorship by men who are not capable of deciding in the matter. The next stop will be to close up art galleries and museums, for surely Sally Rand at her peak was much more modest than some of the ladies represented in oil and water-color at the de Young museum.

And the Venus de Milo, why that revered piece of statuary is positively shameless, and she is viewed every day by impressionable minors who never see the inside of a burlesque house. No, we must never permit the forces of prudery to cut the fairest limb (that's a pun, friend) of the entertainment business.

Let 'Em Pay

Too long have policemen across the nation been permitted to crash the gates at our finest burlesque houses, snigger through the performance, and then close the places down as justification for their acts. In the future, if they want to watch, let 'em pay like the rest of us.

The job of the police is to protect we citizens from the criminal element, not to cause a serious unemployment situation among comely young belles whose physical attributes and native talents have led them into one of the oldest and most-revered of the entertainment media.

First meeting of the Daly City Citizens' Committee for the Protection and Promulgation of Burlesque will be held tonight. Comrades, arise!

Ridgely Cummings . . . HOLLYWOOD

I've written a couple hundred of these essays but each new one is an adventure. Sometimes I know exactly what I'm going to write, having just had an experience which lent itself well to ironical description or straightaway, realistic recountal.

At other times I sat down without an idea in my head and put a clean sheet in the typewriter, knowing only that the time had come, as the Walrus said, to turn out six or seven hundred words to fill my allotted hole in the paper. What came out was often a surprise to me but I read it over with uncritical approval and mailed it away and that was that until next week.

Times Changed

Things are changed today. The time is at hand for my weekly stint but I am in the position of the man with the beard who became self-conscious. The story is an old one. The man had this long beard, which he had worn for many years, and one day a little boy said: "Grandpa, do you sleep with your beard inside the covers or outside?"

"Well Willie," said the old man, running his fingers thoughtfully through the foliage, "I don't rightly know. But tonight I'll take notice and find out."

It Tickles

That night the old man got in bed and pulled the covers up over his whiskers. He closed his eyes and tried to drop off to sleep. The pressure of the blankets on his beard pushed it against his neck and chest. It tickled him. So he arranged his beard outside the covers and closed his eyes again. This time he was conscious of his breath fluttering the long hairs as he breathed in and out. The blanket felt rough against his bare throat.

He tried the beard inside again but it didn't feel right. Then he put it outside and even got up and closed the windows to stop it from blowing around. Still it wasn't right.

All night long the old man turned and tossed and finally in the morning, bleary-eyed and grump, he shaved off his hirsute decoration.

Willie The Louse

For a long time now I've been just like the old man in his happier days. I've been knocking out these pieces without a thought about how I did it. And then little Willie had to come along to louse things up, with the result that I've made a dozen false starts on this one.

My little Willie is named Joseph Conrad. I read just about all of Conrad while I was still in my teens and ever since then have been paying him lip service. I've done more than that in a way, for he was partly responsible for my going to sea and I even named a son after him. In literary discussions I have extolled his name and defended him against detractors. But I never bothered to re-read him.

Then just recently, between the last column and this one, a well-wisher gave me a copy of Conrad's "Nigger of the Narcissus." I had read it before but this edition was different. It had a preface, not printed in earlier editions, in which Conrad set forth his artistic creed.

Conrad's Creed

Although an admirable writer, Joseph Conrad is an extremely conscientious and self-conscious one. He has crossed me up. Here is the nub of his beliefs about writing, a brief quote from a long and eloquent statement:

"My task which I am trying to achieve is, by the power of the written word to make you hear, to make you feel—it is, before all, to make you see. That—and no more, and it is everything. If I succeed, you shall find there according to your deserts: encouragement, consolation, fear, charm—all you demand—and, perhaps, also that glimpse of truth for which you have forgotten to ask."

Now of course that's a fine goal but it is a difficult one to reach.

Poker A La Femme

I had thought, before I read that preface, that I would write a piece about female poker playing, for this past week I sat in with four women and another man, playing horrible concoctions called No Peekie, No Lookee, Spit in the Ocean, Baseball, in which the nines and the threes are wild, and various other melanges in which one-eyed Jacks were wild, the red sevens could be used to fill straights and the black dueces filled flushes, and other aberrations of the feminine mind.

I lost a dollar forty-five in the game, playing at a five cent limit, but considered the time well spent when one of the girls exploded, after a particularly unlucky hand, "Hell's bells!"

Poetry Yet

I hadn't heard that expression for a long time but it rang a bell for me. I could see next week's article nearly written in my mind, for her ejaculation reminded me of a poem which was popular during the last war and I knew just how I was going to work it in. The poem reads:

The bells of hell
Go ting-a-ling-a-ling
For you but not for me.
Oh Death where is
Thy sting-a-ling-a-ling
And Grave thy vic-tor-eee?

But Joseph Conrad with his dictum about making the reader hear, feel and see had messed me up and I got strictly nowhere with my female poker players and my wartime philosophy. So I'm giving up for the moment. Next week I'll be back on the beam. I hope. Otherwise I'll sue Conrad's estate.

HILLTOP MARKET NOW OPEN NIGHTS

Glass Initiates New Evening Hours

Initiating new evening store hours this week is the Hilltop Market, 6315 Mission street.

In an effort to better serve the consumers of this area the Hilltop will now be open every evening, including Sundays, until 10 p.m.

"This will serve a twofold purpose," George Glass, manager and owner said today. "First, later hours will allow drivers to find plenty of free parking space near the store. (Parking meters don't have to be "fed" after 6 p.m.),,

"Also," Glass continued with the store open until 10 p.m. shoppers will have plenty of time after dinner to get to the Hilltop. This should facilitate their shopping and assure them a leisurly opportunity to stroll through our store."

A pioneer in progressive business development here, Glass is a great booster for Daly City.

"It's only through measures like these that we will be able to attract and hold the customers of the greater Daly City area," said Glass.

Asked why his store does not have free delivery service, Glass poinnted to a variety of goods on his shelves. "Those low prices represent the savings on free delivery. We feel they are more important, especially in these times of inflation."

However, Glass observed the delivery question can now be licked. Shoppers, especially women, are invited to make their purchases throughout the day, leaving them at the Hilltop to be picked up later that night.

PROUD OF THE FINE PRODUCE section in the Hilltop Market, 6315 Mission street, are these gentlemen whose courteous service is so well known to customers of the fine store. The Hilltop is now remaining open every evening until 10 p.m. to better serve the residents of Daly City.

Two Colma Residents In Auto Accident

Two Colma residents clashed last Friday in a minor auto accident at the intersection of Market and Alemany.

Anastacio Casoga, P. O. Box 1768, Colma, and Richard Del Fran, 467 C Street, Colma were the two involved. Neither was injured.

"I Was Showing My Son How To Drive, When . . ."

Herman G. Kalinin, 179 Citrus street, Daly City, was just giving his son a few pointers on how to handle the family pickup truck last Friday when something went wrong.

Making a left turn onto Citrus from Mission, he lost control, jumped the curb, and smashed into a retaining wall at Skyway Motors, 6918 Mission street.

Kalinin was taken to Junipero Serra hospital for treatment of minor injuries.

Junior, do like I say, not like I do.

Local Boy Returns From Japan Duty

The destroyer tender USS Hamul has returned to San Diego Naval base after spending nine months in the Far East.

Serving aboard her is Gerald H. Segalas, seaman, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry P. Segalas of 240 Whittier street, Daly City.

The Hamul supplied and repaired 120 Naval ships, ranging in size from harbor tugs to aircraft carriers. A great percentage of her 44,000 man-hours was devoted to the destroyers operating with the UN bombarding and escort forces.

Crew members of the Hamul spent three days at Nagoya, Japan, 330 miles south of Tokyo, on a rest and recreation break. This was the first Naval ship to enter Nagoya since 1950.

County Group Backs Rent Control

Chester Guppy of Burlingame represented the San Mateo County Property Owners Association at a meeting of the San Francisco Board of Supervisors today in which the need for rent control was discussed.

The San Mateo Property Owners Association, Inc., led the successful fight for rent de-control in San Mateo County last year and urges rent de-control throughout the Bay Area upon the expiration of the current Federal law September 30.

On September 30, the matter of rent controls will revert to a local level and surveys have demonstrated the availability of reasonable priced housing in the areas where rent controls have been removed for sometime. Accordingly, Mr. M. L. Steinberg, president of the Association, said the group will continue to provide Senaotrs and Congresmen in Washington with substantiating proof that there will be no need to reestablish Federal Rent Control legislation in the foreseeable future.

MARKOVICH FINALLY GREETS A BABY GIRL

A long awaited member of the Peter J. Markovich family finally put in an appearance Wednesday evening. She was some three boys late.

Marjorie Jean, a beautiful 8 pound 11 ounce bundle of charm, rang the bell at the St. Francis hospital at 5:30 p.m.

Pete, who four years ago greeted his son, Frank; three years ago his son, Michael; and 15 months ago his son, Peter, was too surprised and delighted to say much of anything.

However, Mrs. Markovich, the optimistic member of the family, wasn't surprised at all. She already had a name picked out for the new addition, and it was a fine name befitting a fine girl.

Today the local insurance man reports his wife and (gasp) his baby girl are doing fine. Next week they will return to 724 Washington street to take up residence with the three little Indians known as Frank, Michael and Peter.

And what does Marjorie Jean think of being born into a family of three boys? "Why, it's just fine," she gurgled today.

Post-Korea Vets May Now Apply For Mustering-Out Pay

New GI-Bill Grants $300 To "Police Action" Vets

Application forms for mustering out pay provided by the new "GI Bill" to post-Korea veterans with service on or after June 27, 1950, have been prepared by the Veterans Service Office of San Mateo County and are now available at that office—517 Marshall Street in Redwood City (directly in back of the County Courthouse), it was announced today by Floyd D. Granger, service officer.

He emphasized that the application form, approved by the Defense Department, must be accompanied by the veteran's original Report of Separation, Form DD 214. Ex-Korea servicemen who have lost their original separation documents should apply to their branch of service for certified copies or "in lieu" certificates, he added.

Granger said the new mustering out payments fall into the following classes; $300 for veterans who served at least 60 days and had duty outside the continental limits of the U. S. or in Alaska; $200 for ex-servicemen who served at least 60 days but did not serve outside the continental U. S. or in Alaska; and $100 for persons who were in service for less than 60 days.

Not all post-Korea veterans are eligible for mustering out pay, however. Granger said the act excludes persons called to duty for less than 60 days solely for training duty or physical examination; officers of the rank of major or lieutenant commander and above; servicemen transferred or returned to retired lists with retired pay; those with no overseas service who were discharged to take civilian jobs; and those whose only service was at a civilian school or in an armed service school or academy.

Survivors of qualified veterans who died after release from service are eligible for the veteran's mustering out pay in this order: widow or widower, child or children (in equal shares), parent or parents (in equal shares).

ANOTHER SERVICE STATION BURGLARIZED

Another service station burglary popped up in Daly City over the weekend.

Reported by Barry Knoller, 1855 48th avenue, the robbery took place sometime in the small hours of Sunday night. According to investigating officers, Sgt. Dave Hansen and Officer Ed Beecher of the Daly City police, the burglar entered the WMA station by a rear window.

Using his hands and the traditional blunt instrument, he broke the window and broke and bent back protective bars that covered it.

Once inside, he broke into a cigarette machine, taking money and cigaretes, and left through a side door with automobile equipment and approximately $100 in loot.

State Cooperation Asked In New GI-Bill Training Program

Schools Must Be OK'd For Korea Veterans

Quick action to prevent any delays in providing education or training for veterans under the new Korean GI Bill was taken by Carl R. Gray, Jr., administrator of Veterans Administration.

Grey announced he has formally requested the nation's 48 state governors to appoint agencies within their states to handle approval of schools and business establishments for training eligible veterans.

State Approval

The new law specifies that schools and training establishments must have state approval before they may offer training to veterans who served since the outbreak of Korean hostilities. This requirement also was a part of the original GI Bill for World War II veterans.

Mr. Gray requested "early receipt" of the lists of state approving agencies, so that the Veterans Administration can start handling veterans' applications before August 20—the date the new training program goes into effect.

May Be Same

He suggested to the governors that the same approving agency may be designated for the Korean GI Bill that already has been doing the job under the earlier World War II act.

He pointed out that a state may have either one agency to handle all types of approvals, or separate agencies to approve various types of training—classroom, on-the-farm ,apprenticeship or on-the-job.

Law Allows

The governors were reminded that the law allows VA to reimburse state approving agencies "for reasonable and necessary expenses of salary and travel incurred in rendering necessary services under this Act."

Once an approving agency is appointed, he said, it will be sent a contract proposal for reimbursement of expenses.

He emphasized that approval granted to schools and training establishments under the original World War II GI Bill does not carry over for training under the new Korean act.

Reinspection

Schools and establishments must be reinspected and reapproved for Korean GI Bill training, since in many cases they must meet different standards than those required under the earlier law.

To make certain that post-Korean veterans will be able to enroll in training without delay, Mr. Gray urged the states to approve first those courses which are accredited, since they do not demand extensive investigation.

36 Months of Training

The new Korean GI Bill provides up to 36 months of training to veterans who were on active duty on or after June 27, 1950—the date of the outbreak of fighting in Korea—regardless of where they served. While in training, they may receive an allowance from the federal government to cover part of their expenses.

No allowances may be paid for any training taken prior to August 20, the law states.

Amateurs will also have entries in a number of cut flower exhibits, flower arrangement demonstrations and floral decorations for model period rooms.

County Fair and Fiesta closes August 16. Fiesta hours are from 10:30 a.m. to 10:00 p.m.

LOCAL LEATHERNECK ON MANEUVERS

Sergeant Harry J. Hatt, 81 Park Plaza drive, is Daly City's representative in 15-day-long airground manuevers, currenly being conducted by the 125 officers and men of VMF-141, the Bay Area's only Marine Reserve squadron.

The leatherneck reservists left for Camp Pendleton Outlying Field, near Oceanside, on August 2. There, they will conduct manuevers simulating actual combat conditions.

This will mark the first time since the beginning of the Korean war that any Marine Reserve airmen have been mobilized for a training period away from its home station and under actual field conditions.

At Pendleton, officers and men will live in tents, eat out of mess kits in the field, and send out their planes loaded with "live" rockets, bombs and machine gun ammunition.

Craft used will be 18 F6F fighter planes, three SNJ instrument training aircraft, and seven transport craft.

SAN BRUNO WANTS NEW MUNICIPAL COURT SITE

Hickey Says Court To Stay In South City

Daly City residents may have to go even farther to reach the new municipal court—at least if San Bruno has its way.

Working hot and heavy for a switch in the location of the court from South San Francisco to San Bruno are councilmen of the latter city. The court, which will service the new northern district, goes into effect nevt January and will be presided over by Judge-elect Thomas Bocci.

Matt W. Slankard, San Bruno city manager, acting on caucus instructions of the city council, has written two letters to the San Mateo county board of supervisors on the subject.

One letter proposed the county locate a branch courthouse on unused property on the new city hall grounds, while the second letter advised the county that San Bruno's new city hall might be an ideal location for the court.

Supervisor Thomas Hickey, on the other hand, takes a dim view of the proposed move.

"This whole business is nonsense," Hickey said this week. "Last February the county decided South San Francisco is the logical place for the court."

"As to this other matter—locating a branch superior court in the north county—that will be discussed by the supervisors in executive session at a later date."

Judge Bocci, who has made his justice of the peace court in South San Francisco, has declined to take sides.

LOCAL RESIDENTS GIVE THEIR BLOOD

Blood for the boys in Korea is something that all know they should give, but few take the trouble to do so.

Among local residents who have donated recently to the San Mateo county blood bank are:

Mrs. Louise A. Beedle, Silva Figueroa, Charles Barb, and Raymond Brandt. All are of Daly City.

From Colma, Tiburcio J. Gomez also contributed.

Let's get into the act.

Only Six Weeks Left To Register For November Vote

"Approximately only six weeks remain for those persons not registered or those not properly registered, to register and become eligible to vote at the November 4th General Election," advised County Clerk John A. Bruning today. Registration will close on September 11, 1952.

"More than 150 Registration Deputies located in all areas of the county will be pleased to register those eligible to do so or those who must re-register due to having changed residence," stated Bruning.

Hundreds of inquires have flooded this office recently with reference to registered voters who did not vote at the Primary Election. The question-"Must they re-register to vote at the General Election?" The answer to this question is "No." If these registered voters, who failed to vote at the Primary Election, were registered from the same address at which they now reside, their names will appear on the registration records of their precinct for the November General Election and, assuredly, they will be entitled to cast their ballot.

Those persons now registered who reside at the same address where they did in 1950 and who voted at either the Primary or General Elections held during that year, have current affidavits in the files which will assure their priviledge of voting in November.

Any person who is in doubt as to the status of their registration should check with the Election-Registration Department at the Court House to assure their right to vote in November.

For the non-registered residents of the county, the law requires that you must have been a resident of this state for one year prior to the date of the election, 21 years of age or over, a citizen and resident of the county for 90 days prior to the November 4th election.

Now is the time to be certain of your right to vote for candidates of your choice and on the various issues which will appear on the ballot in November. "Register immediately if you are eligible to do so and re-register if you are not porpoerly registered," urged Bruning.

New York, New Orleans, San Francisco and Houston are the nation's principal ports of entry for green coffee.

The Record, Daly City, Calif. Thursday, August 7, 1952

DALY CITY-COLMA CHAIRMAN FOR THE San Mateo county Community Chest drive, which will begin in the near future, is Fred Bertetta, civic leader and former member of the city council. Bertetta, at far right, is shown here with other city chairmen and Eugene D. Fletchall, far left, North County chief. Fletchall reports that his "team" will beat every other area of the county in the coming drive for Red Feather funds. Special emphasis this year will be placed on informing the public that the services rendered by the 22 Red Feather agencies are made possible only by local support. The men are: (left to right) Fletchall, Harold E. Gray, Remo Boragno, Adolph Sani, Robert Pope, Claude Fourie, Edward E. Keller, and Bertetta.

COMMUNITY CHEST TO EXHIBIT AT COUNTY FAIR-FIESTA TOMORROW

One of the outstanding and unusual educational displays at the San Mateo County Fiesta, which opens tomorrow in San Mateo, will be the forty foot booth in the Pacific building, occupied by the Community Chest of San Mateo county.

Details of the display were worked out by the Public Relations committee and representatives from each of the 22 Red Feather agencies.

Urged To Visit

Public Relations Chairman Harold E. Koerber urged Fiesta visitors to visit their booth and see how their Community Chest dollars go to work for all of us. Visitors wil press a button which will automatically start the display in operation.

Most of the materials for the display were donated or loaned by several San Mateo county firms, Koerber said.

In addition to the electrical display, each Red Feather agency will be represented with special displays in the booth, and from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. each day, there will be two agency people on hand to answer questions about their services.

Represented

Agencies represented in the booth will be the Boy Scouts of America, the Northern, Central and Sequoia Councils of Girl Scouts of the U.S.A., Peninsula Branch of the YMCA, Sequoia District YMCA, Peninsula Jewish Community Center, Children's Health Home, San Mateo County Blood Bank, Visiting Nursing Association, Woodside Youth Activities, Community Chest of South San Francisco, Catholic Social Service, Family Service Agency, United Defense Fund and the U.S.O.

Many interesting features of the agencies will be seen, such as the complete history of the use of blood and blood plasma by the San Mateo county Blood Bank; the equipment a Visiting Nurse carries with her on her calls and many other educational features.

Large Crowd Expected

In commenting on the display, the first of its kind ever attempted by the Chest, President Glen O. Smallcomb said he hoped many thousands of San Mateo county residents would visit the booth during the nine days of the Fiesta to get first hand information on the services being rendered every day of the year to the youth and the less fortunate of our communities.

"These services are vital to our communities," Smallcomb said, "as they actually affect four out of five families. We should all seriously think about these things and plan now to support our own Community Chest to the best of our ability in the forthcoming campaign, as no funds for the support of any of the 22 Chest agencies comes from any other Community Chest or United Fund; they must be supported locally."

FIRST CHILD BORN TO BENDER FAMILY HERE

The University of California hospital on July 22 was the site and time of Mark David Bender's first appearance. First child of Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Bender, 180 Lynnewood drive, Daly City, he weighed in at five pounds four ounces.

Peninsula Home Show Slated Soon

A spectacular "preview night" fashion show for the benefit of the San Mateo County Community Chest will signal the start of this year's colorful Peninsula Home Show (Sept. 13-21) at the Fiesta building, San Mateo.

The preview night is being arranged through the women's auxiliary of the Peninsula General Contractors and Builders Assn., sponsors of the nine-day home show.

A sizeable Community Chest contribution is expected to result from ticket sales to the fashion show. Adalene Ross, popular bay area women's style commentator and TV personality, will be in charge of the affair which will feature models from the Peninsula Young Matrons set.

Joe Schulte, home show manager, said that a capacity audience of more than 3,000 is expected to fill the large indoor theatre during the preview event.

COLMA FIRE WINS ADULT LEAGUE

Drops 21 Club Nine To End League; Second Place Still In Doubt

Tuesday, Colma Fire pitched against the 21 Club in the deciding game of the city's Adult Softball league. If Colma lost this game it would jeopardize its first place standing: if it won, everything would be fine, and from the first inning to the last, it was Colma Fire without any doubt.

But there wasn't any doubt either that Al Chelone played the position of the season as right fielder for 21 Club. Looking like a pro, he pulled the apple in from 50 to 75 yards out of position, and retired many a slugger.

Short Game

It wasn't a long game nor a painful one for "21," but without a pitcher to hold Colma the 21-men had a definite weakness. One that Colma utilized by walking two and three men on the bags and then coming up with a left field slugger.

The seven inning game lasted 60 minutes in a fairly short playoff, with the final tally 11 to 3.

And on the other diamond, Tromborg Plumbers were fielding against the Daly City Fire Club. Lawrence Kennedy had his boys working as a smooth group, but Tromborg was pacing up and down determined to win.

Determined Coach

If his team won this, and the next, they would tie for first place with Colma. However, Kennedy was determined not to lose, even if he had to use his shillelah as a bat.

With Gallagher in the box, the Irish Fire boys were leading 8-2 at the end of the second and 10-2 in the fifth. In the top of the sixth, bags were loaded for the Plumbers, two out, the count three and two. Gallagher on the mound.

Side Retired

Could Gallagher take the strain? He could and did, and retired the side with one run counted in. The game was called at the end of the sixth on account of darkness, and the final tally was in favor of D.C.F.D., 10 to 3.

So Colma has first place league standing all sewed up. Who has second? Well, Plumbers vs. 21 Club will be the game to decide. The winner will be tied with D.C. Fire for next to top honors.

Third place will be decided by Lincoln Lion's vs. Lawson Diner. These last two games wil be played tonight, August 7, at 6:30 p.m. at the high school diamonds, and for Lincoln Lion's it will be the final venture to show their stuff.

Lions Sponsored

This team is sponsored by the Daly City Lions Club and their team wants the Lions Club to know their sponsorship has been greatly appreciated by the boys, who though not the winning team, are certainly the smiling team because of the fun of having been able to play.

The planned new round-robin will have to be cancelled, due to the fact that the games would have to be shortened on account of darkness. Also it seems that this is vacation time for many players, which makes it difficult to organize teams.

Marchbanks Rec Director Gets Bow Of The Week

By Joe Ballarin

At Marchbank recreation center, busy on one of the three levels, and happy, is a very competent and well-known director.

If she isn't having a special activity for the toddlers or a story hour, she is probably instructing the older girls in athletic prowess, or perhaps she will be found on the lower level surrounded by a talkative and querying group.

If the day be a Wednesday, this director has most likely organized a field-trip to Golden Gate Park, or maybe to the Zoo. Then again weinie roast might be in session combined with an athletic day on the second level.

No matter what the occasion or event, all know that it is a well planned and much enjoyed recreational activity, because it was done by Miss Leslie Linhares.

Miss Linhares, when not working with children in the summer, is working for their benefit as a teacher at OLPH, where many a parent has appreciated the effort and results of the young lady's knowledge.

Attending S.F. College for Women, and recently the University of San Francisco, Leslie Linhares has much to offer in example and word to the sons and daughters of Daly City, of which she is also a native.

So here is a kudo to you, Miss-L, director of This week and all weeks, in the true meaning of the word.

Pet Show Draws Odd Assortment Of Insects, Reptiles And Amphibians

Midst a variety of sounds from a variety of hounds, the judging for Daly City's annual pet show got under way last week at Marchbank, Lincoln, and Westlake recreation centers.

It is not an exaggeration to say that over 200 children brought their pets to be judged.

Whether a king snake is a pet is unknown, but it did win 1st prize for the "most charming" snake (it was the only one in it's classification).

In the dog competition, the following boys and girls won first prize ribbons ftor their pets:

In the "cat race," the following owners wom: Sandy Leland, Kitty and Michel Rather, Gary Gardner, Roger Stahl, Linda Bridges, Parry Peters, Nora Sutter, and Rose Marie Kipfer.

Fowl Friends

Sharon Sussmon had the prettiest birds, and in the chicken judging, Mary Unger, Vincent Mitchell and Sandra Iocola won first.

In the mice classification (rodents to you), Bob Rich, James Soto, Tom Magnuson, Mary Magnuson and Joyce Parone took honors. Cooky Covell won the rabbit contest by a hare, along with Bob Soldera, Bob Rector and Pat Pereina. Don Neville won a first for his, lets face it, rat.

The classification known as "amphibians" includes frogs and turtles. The winners include Cathy Rasmussen, Tony Ferger, Bobby Rankin, Bobby Gardner, and Johnny Moore.

Donna Moran, Larry Seigel, Mc Kenney, Greg Waters, Ronnie Sawyer were winners of the buzzing bee judge. Michael Cotton won a prize ribbon the smallest "pet" a flet no less.

No Fisherman He

The fish classification was judged best in favor of Gary Ciolino, who carried a fish-bowl as big as himself, along with Cathy Bekever, Sandra Nelson and Frances Holecek.

Lyn and Gary Anderson, and Bobby Gardner obtained first prize in the reptile dept.

Mary Unger's turtle was the winner in the turtle race, and Turpy Rasmussen's frog jumped the farthest.

After the judging, then was a bubble chewing contest. As the prize for the best bubble-blowers two more pieces of bubble gum.

VINCE AND FRED DROP REGAL PALE; PLAYER SUFFERS FRACTURED SKULL

Another win was chalked up last Sunday by the Vince and Fred Club in Northern California Managers Association AA league play, but an injury marred the victory.

Second Baseman Leo Gianicchini of the local team was struck in the head by a pitched ball in the second frame and packed off to the hospital. X-rays showed that he suffered a slight skull fracture. He is expected to be back in play in the near future.

Leo's absence, however, did not prevent his teammates from rolling up a 12-8 win over their opponents, the Regal Pale nine. The V and F'ers went on an old-fashioned scoring spree, with every member of the team picking up hits and half of them scoring.

Leading slugger was first baseman Decker, who came up four times, hit three and scored twice. It was far from a one-man game, though, with everybody getting into the hitting act, and hurler Mallinoff doing good clutch work on the mound. now, the Vince and Fred club is looking forward to bettering their Summer League performance, where they walked off with second place in the final standings.

PROSPECTS GOOD FOR COAST DEER REPORT

Deer in California's coastal areas appear to be plentiful and in good condition, according to wardens of the Department of Fish and Game, generalizing on hunters' prospects for the August 9 opening of the first of the State's two hunting seasons.

From one-half hour before sunrise, Saturday, to one-half hour after sunset, September 14, hunters may take two bucks in portions of 29 central and south coastal counties. The early deer hunting area is bounded on the north by Mendocino, Glenn and the southerly portion of Tehama County, and extends south genwide belt to the northern San erally in a two-and three-county-Diego County line.

Deer hunting in the balance of the state runs from September 20 to October 19.

In spite of half-a-dozen new legislative laws designed to protect lives and landowners' property, hunters will find an abundance of posted property, the wardens report. Among the new laws are rulings against damaging fences, injuring livestock and shooting within 150 yards of an occupied building.

Kitchen Sponges New? 3,000 Years Old

Science may be able to invent new methods of making sponges, but the uses for them are as old as our civilization.

That's the finding of Dr. Arthur Patch McKinlay, 81-year-old professor of Latin, emeritus, on the Los Angeles compus of the University of California.

When we are told that it's "new" to use sponges for wiping tables, washing dishes and other household chores, don't believe it, the classicist warns.

To prove his point, Dr. McKinlay quotes the "Odssey" of Homer. Before a dinner party for Ulysses, 3,000 years ago, the maids were instructed to wipe off the tables with sponges.

There are other instances, including the use of sponges in a manner somewhat akin to that of doctors today. Just as sponges are now used to absorb excess blood in operations, the Odyssey proves sponges then were used to pick up the blood resulting from Ulysses' killing of his wife's suitors.

TIGERS UPSET SEALS AT M'BANKS

Giants Edge Close Win Over Cubs As Second Round Robin Begins

The Daly City Seals, newly crowned champs of the Teen-Age Baseball league's first round, became the victims of the upset-minded and greatly improved Marchbank Tigers last Tuesday, July 29.

The champs, who were outhit and outplayed throughout the game, fought back gamely only to be nudged four to three in the seven inning contest.

The Seals started in impressive fashion as Chuck Maynard, Tiger curve-baller, walked in a run in the first. The Tigers jumped back in the bal game in the third inning when they pushed across four runs on two hits; two errors and a squeeze. Manager Dick Kalinin's Seals were able to score single tallies in the sixth and seventh but fell one short of the tying run. Losing pitcher Vern Wallegora allowed six hits while walking only three.

Chuck Maynard of the Tigers allowed just four hits but issued nine bases on balls. Sabragia for the winners and Figoni for the losers shared batting honors for the day, each blasting two hits.

GIANTS BUMP CUBS

On the Marchbanks diamond two days later, July 31, John Madden's Giants came from behind to edge the Daly City Cubs 9 to 7 in a hotly contested ball game.

The Cubs scored early in the contest and led 7-3 in the third. The Giants, behind the heavy hitting of Madden and Don Delbon, drew within one run in the fifth and finally went ahead in the sixth by blasting across three more runs.

Bill Lyman, starting pitcher for the Giants, allowed all the Cub's runs before giving way to Ray Rosa in the sixth. Rosa pitched good ball in the final two stanza allowing only one hit and no runs.

George Bernasconi pitched five innings for the Cubs allowing six hits and four runs. Bernasconie was relieved by Ty Tiejero who gave up three runs on three hits.

LAST GAMES OF FIRST ROUND ROBIN

Ringing down the curtain on the league's first half, the Daly City Tigers trounced the Daly City Cubs 12 to 3 on the Marchbank diamond Thursday, July 24.

The greatly improved Tiger club had too much power at the plate for the Cub team. The Tigers slammed out seven hits against the pitching of Big John Madden in the fifth inning contest.

Madden contributed to his own defeat by balking twice and issuing five bases on balls. Player manager John Pedroni and Pitcher Mynard were the big guns at the plate for the Tigers, each blasted two hits in three times at bat.

Pitcher Mynard also turned in a creditable performance on the mound, allowing only one hit in five innings.

Seals vs. Suds

On Tuesday, July 22, the Daly City Seals won a 7-0 ball game from the Suds by default. The Seals victory marked their sixth win in as many starts.

Their undefeated record gives them the Teen-Age League's first half championship. The Daly City Recreation department will present the Seals with a team banner in recognition of their fine play.

DEER-JACKERS GET 300 DAYS EACH

That ill fortune comes in threes may be confirmed by three Garberville hunters who were arrested by three law enforcement officers for night hunting with the aid of a spotlight. They are each serving jail terms of three hundred days.

The trio contributed to an all-time monthly record of jail sentences reported by the California Department of Fish and Game. During the month of June, fish and game violators throughout the State were sentenced to an aggregate of 1,262 days in jail.

Judge George A. Carver of Cummings, Mendocino County, found Russell P. Phelps, William J. Maddox and Troy M. Wylie, all of Garbervile, guilty of spotlight hunting. Each will spend 300 days in jail for the offense. They were arrested near Laytonville by State Fish and Game Wardens Floyd Loots and Garrie Heryford and Deputy Sheriff Whitter.

ARABIAN HORSES COMING TO PALACE

Some of the finest Arabian horses in the West will go through their paces at the Cow Palace Saturday and Sunday (Aug. 9-10.)

The occasion is the third annual All-Arabian Horse Show, sponsored by Islam Temple of the Shrine and presented by the Arabian Horse Association of Northern California.

Several midwestern States will send their blooded animals to the show this year, in addition to some 200 Western States entries.

Summer Recreation

Edgewood Playground

By Lorraine Cady

On Wednesday, July 23, Edgewood's Doll Show resulted in a huge success. Some of the 35 boys and girls who received certificates were:

Carol Duke, Karen Bradshaw, Barbara Sears, Connie Lou Ives, Deirdre Glick, Davie Enberg, Shirley Farina, Diane Caruso, Kathleen MacDougal, Susan Hinds and Mollie Brigham.

Beachtime

Friday, July 25, 16 boys and girls enjoyed a day at Skateland at the beach. Also included in the day's schedule were the Fun House and Laff in the Dark.

Those who enjoyed the festivities were: Patrick Pereira, Roger Stahl, Sharon Sussman, Judy Larcher, Wayne Saiser, Harold Brigham, Nicholas Carrassi, Priscilla Gruenwald, Jimmy Kenedy, Jane Gruenwald and Jimmy Green.

Basketball

Since our basketball court has been completed, Edgewood has organized a boys' basketball team. The team includes Dale Fambrini, Thomas Mays, Butch Davies, Patrick Smith, John O'Keefe, Tom Hinkins, John Jackson, Jerry Sullivan, Billy Harold, Jerry Gruenwald and Victor Shannon.

The boys are eager to meet with competition from other playgrounds.

Edgewood has also scheduled a Dress-up Day and Treasure Hunt. In order to participate in the Hunt one must wear a funny homemade costume. The children will be given a list of objects to find. He who returns with his "treasure" first will receive a prize.

A tether ball tournament will take place at Edgewood, August 11 and 12. The winners will be announced later.

Marchbanks Playground

By Leslie Linhares and Frank Ingersoll
Playground Directors

Over seventy proud "mothers" turned out with their "precious bundles" for the annual Doll Show. Dolls of all sizes and descriptions were put on parade.

Judging was indeed a difficult feat, for to each little boy and girl their possession was a winner. With over 10 classifications, and three winners in each, only a small part of the dolls were taken care of.

Some of the winners were: the best story book doll, Carol Ann Cunningham, the most unusual, Diane Guzlas, the best hand made, Diane Davison, the foreign doll, Maureen Kennedy most life-like, Bobby Rasmussen, the biggest, Anne Mori, the best baby doll, Donna and Jeane McHood and many others.

The winners were presented with a prize. The unhappiness of the losers consoled with a lollipop to make the day a success.

Skateland

Flying feet on wheels gliding along a smooth wooden surface, this was the scene at the recent Skateland Party. As usual this favorite had a large turn-out. The Teenagers boasted the largest group but the sub-teens were out in force too.

Rolling along to the music were: Sylvia and Mary Viallta, Ray West, Robert Harvey, Barbara and Alden Nelson, Bonnie Lyn Adami and Lynette Vegas to mention a few.

After two hours of skating the kids rambled over to the Fun House. In no time they were making use of all available facilities, sliding, riding the rocking horses, playing the phonograph, wobbling through the barrel. Their energy only partly expended the kids enjoyed further rides on various things.

After this, exhausion captured the group and we were homeward bound.

Girl of the Week

Tall, dark and pretty is our girl of this week, Helene Cava. Helene is 16 years old and will be a junior at Jeff. Her face is seen daily at Marchbanks, were she plays stationary, a form of her favorite game, baseball.

The Marine Corps will be the recipient of Helene's talent. She hopes to make a career out of this. If her stamina in sports is any proof of this she'll make the goal easily.

At her home, 368 San Diego avenue, this teenager spends some of her time clipping out and collecting articles on her favorite baseball team, the Seals. No comment on their present status.

When asked why she comes to Marchbanks, Helene, or Ninghy as she is called, replied, "Marchbanks offers more athletic activities than any other park and it is also easy to make new friends here."

On Wednesday, July 23, under a warm summer sun, Marchbanks playground held a picnic and wienie roast in honor of its victorious Junior Olympic team. Over one hundred kids turned out for the event, which saw one hundred fifty hot dogs and 10 dozen ice creams consumed. Members of the olympic team were given the ice cream free in recognition of their fine sportsmanship during the olympics.

Billy Magee, Henri Oliver, Gordon Tydingco, Sue Bridges, Woody Grummond, Helen Cava, Jackie and Vickie Lewkowitz, and Joe and Anthony Stagnaro all seemed happy and well-fed at the day's end.

"Boy of the Week"

"Helping out is fun," says 11-year-old Skip Crudo, and this cooperative youngster will back his statement with action too. For this reason Skipper has won this week's "Boy of the Week" competition at Marchbanks.

Skipper is currently first string center fielder on the Marchbanks Junior baseball team but prefers wrestling as his favorite sport. Skip will gladly challenge any boy his age and weight to a two out of three fall match.

In addition to being a sports enthusiast, Skip is a member of the Cub scouts and can be seen proudly wearing his uniform several days a week. Marchbanks proudly presents Skip Crudo as their boy of the week. Congratulations Skip.

Stationary Tournament

A new game of the baseball type, called Stationary, has enjoyed tremendous popularity at Marchbanks this summer. Last Wednesday eight teams competed in an elimination tournament to determine the playground champions.

The team of Paul Tapia and Danny Rasmussen met and defeated Danny Martinez and Gordon Tydingco in the finals 5 to 0. The winners, Paul and Danny, received milk shakes in addition to the playground championship.

Paul Tapia also earned a second milk shake for winning the batting championship of the tournament but in the spirit of good sportsmanship, Paul relinquished the second milk shake in favor of runner-up Gordon Tydingco.

Lincoln Playground

By John Parina

Highlights of the past week's program were the Doll show, Wednesday, July 23, and the Skating Party, Friday, July 25. Big attendance at both events made them very successful.

The winners in the Doll Show at Lincoln were: Darlene Nitte, "Sue," tie for prettiest; Carol Sandello, "Mary Ann," also tied for prettiest; Sharon Nitte, "Bonnie Brae," 2nd; Gail Newton, "Bett," 1st oldest; Barbara Hefferon, "Sister Teresa," 2nd, and her "Nellie," 1st tie; Georgette Pelaez, "Betty," largest, and her "Maria," smallest.

The Skating Party at Skateland was also very successful with Wendy Wilson, Marian and Lenore Stado, Peggy Holcomb, Ron Joy, Linda McArdle and others from Lincoln having a great time.

Last week at Lincoln was the basketball speed shooting contest, also the dog and pet show was held on Wednesday, July 30.

Jefferson High Playground

By Marge Erickson and L. H. Reese

The high school game room has added shuffle-board to its long list of available activities. Teenagers in particular seem to enjoy this new attraction.

Last week nearly everyone attended the roller skating party and excursion at the beach.

Wednesday afternoon the annual Doll Show was held at the Game Room. Some of the winners were Perry Peters, Judy Peters, Diane Banfield, Mary Garibaldi, Joan Nelson, Barbara Adams, Ann Brown, Sue Edwards and Marsha Geary.

Daily Badminton tournaments were held Tuesday and Thursday. On Tuesday the singles tournament was held, Ron Bourdon was the winner. Also competing were Bob Bridges, Jim Rector, Mike Kennedy, Lorraine McFee, Mary Viallta, Charlotte and Jeanette Dulis.

The doubles tournament on Thursday will be completed next week because of lack of time, plus the large number competing. Gerry Bertetta and Dan Miceli, Mike and Jerry Kennedy, and Bob Bridges and Jim Rector will play off in the finals.

The girls Ping Pong Ladder Tournament saw some changes last week. Carol Glover worked her way up to second place behind Donna Shulda. Jean Jobson, Pan Hix and Jackie Baher follow in that order.

Establishment of the system of rectangular land surveys, which provide land descriptions, was commenced in the United States in 1785.

Jeff High Teacher Attends Workshop

Mrs. Mary V. Newswanger, women's physical education instructor at Jefferson Union High school, is currently learning latest teaching methods and techniques in the field while attending the California workshop, which is being held on the campus of California State Polytechnique college.

The two-week workshop, sponsored by the California Association of Health, Physical Education and Recreation, started July 28 and will end Friday, August 8.

Heading the instructional staff are Dr. Eleanor Metheny and Dr. Aileene Lockhart, both of the University of Southern California. Caroline E. Nelson, Mt. Diablo High school, is chairman of the workshop.

A highlight of the annual event is the lectures by Alice Marble, former United States and Wimbledon tennis champion. The former tennis great will also lecture to the men's physical education group which will convene on the Cal Poly campus Aug. 11-22.

The workshop has attracted women from northern and southern California. Classes are being held for 15 different activities.

Plan Study To Save Feather River Fish

A $40,000 study designed to save the Feather River salmon and steelhead trout doomed after construction of the proposed Feather River Project has been requested of the State Division of Water Resources by the California Fish and Game Commission.

In a resolution adopted at their last meeting, commissioners asked that five per cent of the division's $800,000 legislative appropriation for surveys and planning be used in a fish conservation study. Means of providing a recreational fishery in the reservior behind Oroville dame was also recommended for consideration.

"Construction of a dam on the Feather River will cut off a large portion of the spawning area for salmon and steelhead," the commission resolution asserted, "inasmuch as the dam will be too high for a satisfactory fishway (or ladder)."

Downstream spawning beds will have to be improved or artificial fish propagation developed to make up for the spawning area loss, Commissioners stated.

The city of San Francisco was incorporated April 15, 1850.

THE MAN AT THE KEYHOLE

By Operative WB

Ever felt like writing your Congressman but couldn't remember his name? An enterprising firm has come out with a "Dear Congressman" kit containing a list of all Senators and Representatives and their addresses, six envelopes and twelve sheets of paper. And in case you never can find stamps when you want them, the envelopes are already stamped.

Cynical television critics estimate that women speakers at the national Conventions set back the cause of feminine participation in politics by 50 years. One of the notable exceptions, however, was the lovely California woman delegate who spoke as well as she looked.

My, how Uncle Sam has grown! Last year, federal expenditures equalled the total income of everybody living in the States west of the Mississippi, and the Gulf States as well—27 out of the 48. Way back in 1929, Uncle's spending amounted to less than two-thirds of the income of California residents alone!

Mental Health Starts Early Says Psychologist

Unless parents and teachers learn to understand the emotional reasons underlying children's problems, we may one day find ourselves a nation incapable of dealing with the growing complexities of modern life.

This conclusion has been reached by Dr. Ralph H. Ojemann, professor of psychology at the University of Iowa, after 15 years research in child behavior. He is a consultant to a four-week Elementary School Conference new being held on the Los Angeles campus of the University of California.

Dr. Ojemann, who calls his program "Preventive Psychiatry," says that psychiatrists have frequently told him they must have help from the source if the nation's rapidly worsening mental health problem is to be solved.

What Dr. Ojemann considers the principal "sources of infection" are the home and the school. To wipe them out, he advocates constant application by parents and teachers of what he calls the "causal" or "analytic" method in dealing with children, as contrasted to a "surface" approach.

What he defines as the "causal" approach is simply to develop the habit of looking beneath the child's "surface" or external behavior. It is a matter, he says, of learning to appreciate the problem the child is trying to solve and why he went at it the way he did.

Purse Snatcher Gets The Purse—But No Money

A purse snatcher succeeded in getting away with a purse belonging to Mrs. Virginia Sartori, 99 Parkview avenue, Daly City, Wednesday, but his talents were wasted—the purse contained no money.

Mrs. Startori told Daly City police that she was attacked a few minutes before noon at the intersection of Parkview and Marin. The unidentified thief drove up to her, got out of his late model sedan, and grabbed her.

She dropped her purse and he immediately reached down for it and ran back to the car and drove off.

Drake's Bay, entered by the explorer Sebastian Rodriques Cermeno, Nov. 6, 1595, was named by him "La Bahia de San Francisco."

Mrs. Conti bought two dozen duck eggs for some extra special cookies she wanted to bake, broke one and found inside another egg—complete with shell. Professor S. J. Kanakian of California Polytechnic Agricultural college reports that a double-shelled egg is one of the rarest freaks known, as opposed to the common double-yoked egg.
